Hi my name is lily may. I am eleven years old. I have been going to the beach ever since I could walk and I love the beach because of the nature. Other people like the beach for the peace and a nice walk. I go to the beach to see the seals, the birds and the herring to the sea. when my mum told me that they might put oysters on the beach I felt like I was going to cry because ever since I was little I loved playing in sand but if you put oysters on the beach it will be too dangerous to go on the beach because beaches are meant to be dangerous for the wildlife too. please don't let this happen
